BIG PLANTS RUNNING DESPITE STRIKERS.

Work at Monessen Continues as Usual—Storm Center at Wellsville. Mediation Proposed.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
PITTSBURGH, July 18.—Secretary Joseph Bishop of the Ohio State Arbitration Board offered to mediate, and President Shaffer has accepted his willingness to submit the matter to issue to mediation, but to arbitration. There the situation rests until Bishop can confer with the other members of the board.
No attempt was made today to start the Painton mill, and no one could be seen around the premises save a number of guards. Notices were posted during the night at this plant that all tonnage men could get the pay due them Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. At Lindsay & McCutcheon's works in Allegheny, aside from a few watchmen, there was nobody about. Notices were posted that all the men would be paid off tomorrow. The threatened report to be circulated that the firm was going to import negroes from Alabama, but it was afterward denied.
At the Monongahela tin works the men in the finishing department were closing up their work, having been notified that the supply of material would be exhausted in a day or two, when the plant would have to suspend entirely. Trustee Gibson was circulating among the strikers at the different plants during the day. The following independent mills, he said, had notified the Amalgamated Association that they were in need of men and could care of all the strikers: The Pittsburgh Forge and Iron Mill, Monaca's Rocks Iron Mill, Bug Mill, Silgo Mill, Keystone Mill and the Monongahela Coal and Iron Company. The men, he said, would take these positions.
The Vandergrift plant is regarded as a most important one by the Amalgamated Association, and a determined effort is being made to reach it. It has no less than twenty-seven mills, and is employing a large force of men. The plants at Apollo, Scotland, Duncansville and Monessen are still running as usual.
The tin-house workers are all at work at the Humbert plant of the American Tin Plate Company at South Connellsville, but the Amalgamated men are out of the plant. The Pittsburgh Tin Plate Works, Washington, Pa., gained a slight victory when, after several conferences, he succeeded in getting the striking cold-rolled workers to return to work, and finish up the large block of black plate on hand. The men had asked for an increase in wages. The mill manager promised a definite answer by Saturday, July 20. The men then agreed to work until that date, pending a settlement. They are members of the Amalgamated Association.
Amalgamated Secretary John Williams received a letter from Vice-President W. C. Davis of the Chicago district today, announcing that the men employed by the Federal Steel Company had been assessed one day's pay for the strike fund. The contribution will amount to about $32,000 every two weeks.

LATER DEVELOPMENTS.
STORM CENTER AT WELLSVILLE.
[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
PITTSBURGH, July 18.—The most important of all reports regarding the steel workers' strike that reached Pittsburgh today was the action of the men employed in the Duncansville plant of the American Steel Hoop Company. A telegram was received by President Shaffer from the manager of the morning asking if they should strike. The message was a surprise for the Amalgamated people, as they were not looking for this news so soon. President Shaffer answered, telling the men not to come out unless they were organized. If organized, they should strike, for they are needed.
In the afternoon a telegram was received from Duncansville asking the organizer to be sent to them at once. In compliance with this request, Vice-President John Pierce started for Duncansville this evening to complete the organization. The Duncansville plant is the last of the hoop plants to remain at work, and the Amalgamated Association officials say that if they are successful in closing this plant they will be masters of the situation, as far as the Steel Hoop Company is concerned at least.
In the immediate vicinity of Pittsburgh the evident intention of the commission to resume the work of the Duncansville plant at McKeesport is the only incident so far calculated to cause uneasiness. The notices posted today were placed with the probable expectation of securing the early return to town of many of the workers who have gone on fishing and other trips. The men claim to be confident that enough men cannot be secured to operate the mill, and say no opposition will be made to any who wish to go in. The police authorities, though, going on the principle that in time of peace is the best time to prepare for war, have taken every precaution, and feel prepared to cope with any trouble that may arise.
A dispatch tonight from Monessen says: "In spite of all efforts to the contrary, the tin mill here is still running, and as far as present appearances point it promises to not be affected in the slightest by the strike. The tin mill employees are satisfied with the voluntary advance made by the combine, and will continue to work. A non-union crew of 500 striking steel hoop men, however, left for their homes, as they are of the opinion that the workers will be long and bitter. The hoop mill is closed down, with the exception of about twenty men, who are making some needed repairs."
The following was received today from Wellsville: "The storm center of the great strike was today moved from Pittsburgh to this little Columbiana county village. News that the Wellsville plant of the American Steel Hoop Company was now in shape to run in full, and that men would be imported from Vandergrift, Pa., and other points to work all mills caused President Shaffer to order the Amalgamated Association to rush here from Pittsburgh to give courage to the striking mill men."
The Amalgamated Association officials, Trustee John A. Morgan, Vice-President John A. Chappelle and President Shaffer were almost smothered by the crowd which greeted them here on their arrival. A procession of several thousand people followed them to the City Hall, where the public meeting was held, and at which President Shaffer was the principal speaker. About two thousand people were crowded into the hall before the party from Pittsburgh left the platform. There were present workmen from East Liverpool, Wheeling, Steubenville and other points. Persifer F. Smith of Allegheny, who had been invited publicly by the Amalgamated officials to be present at the meeting, was not there, much to the disappointment of all concerned. The address of President Shaffer was listened to with deep interest and caution, the men to keep within the bounds of the law, and above all, to abstain from drinking. He said:
"Just before the last conference we had with the employers in Pittsburgh, Trustees John A. Morgan, who is here today and will bear me out, was called with me into a private conference with those representing the United States Steel Corporation, and we were plainly told that they did not intend to resume work until the men were about to undertake. We were told the United States Steel Corporation had in reserve a fighting fund of $200,000,000, or, as it was put to us, a reserve to bolster up the stocks of that corporation, should there be trouble with the workers."
"This was no idle boast, it now seems, for last week the stocks of the steel corporation went down, and now they have been shot up again, showing the world that at least part of the $200,000,000 has been put into circulation to uphold the stock."
"In conclusion Mr. Shaffer said: 'If the Wellsville mill remains idle for a short time, some of the political leaders will have something to say. Business men, too, will have something to say, and we will win.'"
This evening a number of men were at work at the plant. Superintendent D. R. Brookman explained that it was the hour for changing turns, and many of the day workmen had gone home. There were still quite a number left, however, and there was indication that not a few had been at work during the day. Mr. Brookman would give no figures, save that three mills had been running, and that he would have put another force of men at work today had he been ready.

DELAY IN THE COURT.

Uvada Grade Case Must Wait.

Short Line Manager on Rejected Maps.
Claims They are All Right Though Made in Haste.
Another Busy Meeting of Transcontinental Folks in Colorado.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SALT LAKE (Utah) July 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Oregon Short Line's legal department has been officially notified of the adjournment for the summer of the Carson (Nev.) court. This means that the expected decision in the disputed Uvada grade contest is going to be further delayed, but how long is a question. The opinion may be handed down during the court's vacation period, and again it may not be forthcoming until September. Until then there will be more or less uneasiness and uncertainty on both sides of the controversy. Speaking today of the action of the Interior Department in sending the nine temporarily-rejected maps of the Short Line back to Reno pending an investigation as to their genuineness, General Manager Bancroft said:
"Our contention is, of course, that they are all right. Why should they not be? The man who made this hasty survey, as the San Pedro folks complain, is the same man who surveyed that line four years ago. He went over the route hastily, it is true, but why should he not? He had his original field notes with him, and the line was run quickly, not of actual necessity, but to confirm the maps prior to filing. There was no reason for our driving our stakes again, for they had been driven before our survey was done. We expect to stand against the San Pedro Company's objection. The Secretary of the Interior doubtless thought the San Pedro line, having made the objection, was entitled to a hearing. That is why the maps were sent back to Carson, but we will prove our case."
The head of the Oregon Short Line engineering department, William Ashton, is home today from a trip fifty miles below Grand Junction, Nev. He says his company is rapidly pushing not only surveying, but construction work, and that between four and five thousand feet of rails are being laid every day. Some distance below this the Utah Construction Company, he says, is also industriously at work in the same direction. Thus the work of giving Salt Lake and Los Angeles two more railroads goes merrily along.

TRANSCONTINENTAL FOLKS.
FIXING UP LOW RATES.
[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
DENVER, July 18.—A special to the News from Glenwood Springs, Colo., says the Transcontinental Association has another busy day today. It was practically agreed to grant a rate of one and one-third fare for the convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers, held at Cheyenne, Wyo., to include Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and west to the Pacific Coast.
A strong effort was made to change the places of meeting of the association so as to include Chicago and St. Louis only, but the change did not materialize, as the majority decided to adhere to the old arrangement of meeting quarterly at Glenwood Springs, New Orleans, San Francisco and St. Louis.
The matter of interchangeable mileage books was practically decided. Negroes, to take in all common points west of and including Colorado. A mass of other business took up the time of the meeting today, but the most of it affected individual roads only, and was not of interest to the general public.
BIG EASTERN TRADE.
GREAT NORTHERN'S SCHEME.
[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
SEATTLE (Wash.) July 18.—Samuel Hill, third vice-president of the Great Northern, returned here yesterday from the Orient, after completing a trip entirely around the world. He traveled from Moscow, Russia, across over the Trans-Siberian Railroad to Vladivostok, and later visited Nagasaki, Yokohama and other oriental ports. He declared that he found the products of Washington, Oregon, California and Alaska 1000 miles in the interior of Siberia.
American trade relations, he asserts, have been seriously crippled with Russia, owing to the action of the American government, although, he added, the general disposition of Russia is to welcome American products. The primary object of the journey was the creation of trade connections in the Orient, by which the Great Northern might become the beneficiary, this being one of the favorite enterprises of the railway in question through its Japanese steamship connections.
Hill asserts that there is an ever growing and thriving trade between the Pacific Coast and the Orient, which has received a check owing to the ac-

WILKESBARRE (Pa.) July 18.—Some non-union men at the Maltby collieries of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company were stoned by strikers and broken up. They were changing shifts this morning, and several were hurt, but none seriously. No shots were fired. The company has set men to guard the mines and prevent rioting.
GOT THEIR CARDS INSPECTED.

SHAMOKIN (Pa.) July 18.—The strike of 500 employees at Hickory Creek colliery ended today by the men having their working cards inspected away from the company's property.
SCHWAB CALLS AT MORGAN'S.
[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
NEW YORK, July 18.—President Schwab of the United States Steel Corporation was a caller at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. today. His stay at the banking house was brief. Schwab discussed the strike situation with newspaper reporters.
CLOSING FIGHT AGAIN.
SAN JOSE UNION DEMAND.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN JOSE, July 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A merry war was inaugurated this evening in union circles by the announcement by Richard's pharmacy that they will hereafter remain open after 8 o'clock, the time agreed upon by the Retail Clerks' Association and the United Brotherhood of Carriers. The Federated Trades Organization, when all drug stores shall close their doors. The campaign that led to the closing of the all-night drug stores, as well as all others, at 8 o'clock in the Garden City nearly two months ago, was hard fought and engendered many personal animosities that have never been settled. It was begun by the Retail Clerks' Association, which succeeded more than a year ago in closing all stores at 8 o'clock, except drugists.
Consent was finally obtained of all except three, and one, all-night drug store. Finally the influence of the Federated Trades Association was brought to bear, and under threat of a general boycott, all capitulated. The general public have not taken kindly to the closing of drug stores, and this evening Richard's pharmacy opened with the announcement that hereafter it would conduct its own business. This will probably be followed by the opening of others. It remains to be seen whether the Federated Trades will stand behind the clerks in another fight to close.

PHILIP BOTH'S SON KILLED BY BRITISH.

Testimony Taken to the Effect That Burghers Did Shoot Wounded Soldiers at Vlakfontein—Inquiry Begun Under Oath at Johannesburg.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
LONDON, July 18.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Lord Kitchener, commanding the British forces in South Africa, reports to the War Office as follows:
"ELANDSFONTAIN, July 18.—Capt. Charles Both, son of Philip Both, and Field Cornets Hermann and Oliver have been killed in the Orange River Colony."
SHOT BRITISH WOUNDED.
BOERS AGAIN ACCUSED.
[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
JOHANNESBURG, July 18.—[By South African Cable.] In the course of an inquiry conducted under oath here today, various non-commissioned officers and men of the British army confirmed the statement that the Boers shot the British wounded at Vlakfontein.
REITS WOULD GIVE UP.
LETTER TO STEYN.
[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
LONDON, July 18.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The War Office issued a dispatch from Lord Kitchener, giving the correspondence between Reits and Steyn that was captured with the latter's baggage near Lindley, July 11.
Reits, under date of May 19, wrote Steyn that a meeting of the Boer government had been held, attended by Gen. Botha, Gen. Viljoen and Smuts to consider the national situation. He then catalogued the difficulties—the numerous surrenders of Boer troops, the heavy responsibility on the government, the rapidly decreasing supply of ammunition, the disintegration of the government and the lack of any definite assurances of European intervention.
"In view of these facts," he said, "the government has decided to address a message to President Kruger, pointing out the terrible conditions. The time has passed for us to let matters as at present. We must take a final step."
Steyn, replying May 20, upbraided Reits with weak-heartedness, saying: "There is sufficient ammunition to continue the struggle. You ask what prospect there is for a successful termination. I ask what chance was there for two small republics when they declared war against the mighty power of Great Britain? You will answer that we trusted in God and in foreign intervention. What reason is there now to place less trust in God? I have seen recent European newspapers, and I firmly believe that complications will occur in Europe in the course of a few months which will secure our good fortune."
Steyn also says the facts that Kruger and the Boer delegates remain in Europe convince him that they consider the case not beyond hope. He adds that he has summoned Gen. De Wet, and urges Reits to take no steps until he has heard further from him.

CLARK'S RUSSIAN DEAL.
The Montana Senator Says He Was Asked to Look at Some Property by Count Brotsky.
[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
BUTTE (Mont.) July 18.—Senator W. A. Clark was today shown the Associated Press dispatch from St. Petersburg stating that during his recent visit to Europe, the Senator, in company with an American Count, had visited St. Petersburg and Moscow and invested 10,000,000 rubles in copper mines.
Senator Clark said that the matter had not as yet passed the stage of inquiry. Count Brotsky, known as the "Sugar King" of Russia, had proposed to him to buy a tract of valuable land near Tomsk on the Trans-Siberian Railway. The district, Senator Clark said, produces considerable coal and has some very promising copper prospects.
THREE NEGROES HANGED.
NASHVILLE (Tenn.) July 18.—The first triple execution ever held in this county took place here today when three negro murderers were executed from the same scaffold in the jail yard. The condemned were Baby Battle, Duser Thompson and Abe Petway. The crime for which Petway paid the penalty was the murder of an old white man named Wrenne on the night of May 31, 1900. Battle and Thompson were hanged for the murder of Calne Miller, a negro "spotter" for the police.

Figures Concerning Equipment and Valuation, Employees and Casualties.

EMPLOYEES. The number of persons employed by the railroads of the United States, as reported for June 30, 1990, was 1,017,676, or an average of 529 employees per 100 miles of line. As compared with 1989, there was an increase of 88,729, or 34 p 100 miles of line. From the classification of these employees by function, the following were reported: 413,310 conductors, 141,330 engineers and firemen, 14,430 trainmen, 93,507 conductors, and 74,274 other trainmen. There were 56,789 switchmen, flagmen and watchmen. The employees not assigned to the four general divisions numbered 36,481. The average compensation for the employees by function was: $23,946 for administration; $23,946 for maintenance of way and structures; $19,739 for maintenance of equipment; and $50,063 for conducting transportation.

The report will contain a statement of the average daily compensation of the employees.

The deductions from income, $461,782, already mentioned, comprised the following items: Salaries and maintenance of organization, $59,102; interest on bonds, $1,000; interest on current liabilities, $4,912; rents paid for lease of realty, $10,918; depreciation on equipment, $1,000; provisions charged to income account, $25,500; other deductions, $27,074.

The report will contain a summary of the income tax returns filed by each amount and the amount per mile of highway given for each State. From it appears that discrediting taxes pay less than they receive from the Federal recent Internal-revenue act. The small amounts not apportioned to the States are distributed among the highways of the United States during fiscal year in question taxes to amount of $14,416, or an average of about 1¢ per mile.

In the consideration of the foregoing figures pertaining to income and expenditures of the Federal Government, annual reports of two kinds have died without a struggle, as he was lying with his hands on his breast, folded, as if done by an undertaker. It is not known whether he committed suicide or was murdered.

The Coroner was notified at once, but as yet no one has come to remove the body. There may be papers in his pockets to identify him, but no one has yet touched the body.

He was a man of short build, and has a short, light mustache. He was of middle age. He was at Palmdale early this morning, and went to a saloon and asked for a drink, which was refused him on account of having no money. Then he started off east from here.

TOWNS THAT RIDE on the waters of Chenapaqua. They will be written in The Times on Sunday.

The steamship Roanoke, Capt. H. Weaver, arrived in port today, with sixty passengers, and over $1,000,000 gold dust. The majority of the passengers came from Dawson City, where they were picked up by the steamer from Lower Yukon River points, having come to St. Michaels on the river steamers. The treasure was shipped out by the North American Transportation and Trading Co., many tons of gold being taken aboard the steamers Sadie and Yukon. There remained about $350,000 of treasure at St. Michaels, which was to have been shipped out to San Francisco.

The steamship Charles D. Lane, leaving St. Michaels for Seattle tomorrow, has the Roanoke pulled off to Teller City, as the Roanoke pulled off there yesterday morning. On July 7, at Dutch Harbor the Roanoke met the steamer Jeanie, on her way from Alaska, and she took aboard Elith Thompson who was on her way to Seattle. Other steamers at Dutch caused a loss of over $50,000. The fishermen down Fish River demolished a storehouse and carrying general devastation in its wake. The damage was almost entirely confined to Council Bluffs, where the worst damage was done. Some that place was said to be in ruins. Only one house in the village was left standing. Most of the houses of Council City were blown on the flat.

On June 17 at midnight the ice broke and the people of Council Bluffs were informed that the city utterly demolished and destroyed every building but one, the Dauntless Hotel, run by J. J. Log. The people of Council Bluffs lost all the property of Harry Koetz, and though the cabin was demolished, turned the ice. The North American Transportation and Trading Company buildings were located on the flat and the people of Council Bluffs were left with no freight damaged. The people were living in tents on the hills.

crowded yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the annual social and entertainment given by the Loyal Temperance Legion, complimentary to the Los Angeles W.C.T.U. The room was decorated with flowers and foliage, and many silk banners, bearing temperance mottos were conspicuous about the room.

The large audience was delightfully entertained with a choice programme of readings and music, as follows:

recitation, "What a Little Girl Can Do," Mabel Stephenson; recitation,
"When I'm a Man, Thomas V. Rey-citation, "When We Get There," Louis Garret; dialogue, "A Drunkard's Daughter," Nellie Stephenson, Kate service, Wilhelmine Cardoll, Louise freshments were served.

the three conducted by the Los An-

The violin solos by Claude Caldwell were especially well received, and well and displayed great artistic merit.

Local Forecast Official Ordered to Discontinue All Save "Cold Wave" Signal—Would Do in Alaska.

The "cold-wave" that will continue to be displayed at the local weather bureau, whenever occasion demands but George E. Franklin, the local forecast official, has received notice to discontinue all others. Hereafter the service will consist only of the forecasts of the weather for the various districts and towns having over 5000 inhabitants. The reason given for the change is that the larger towns and cities, which have a greater importance sources of information, not available in smaller communities, and the service will be more extensive than in the order to disseminate the forecasts more widely in the sparsely-settled districts, it has been decided to cut out of the cities, which are of less importance to the inhabitants. Any city however, that desires to furnish it own signal, flag, may do so, and receive the forecasts as usual.

In Alaska the order for the "cold wave" signal might impose an onerous task upon the local forecast official, doesn't worry much over such an order in Los Angeles, and at last account had not sent in a request for extraneous help in order to carry it out.

OLD TEETH

When a tooth is so badly decayed or broken away that filling would not prove successful or permanent, we cover the entire tooth with a gold shell (commonly called cap or crown) It carries fit. This shell is an exact counterpart of the tooth before decay and is made to fit accurately to the margin of the gum. It is cemented on with a cement which sets and hardens like concrete and holds for a lifetime. This cement also acts as a filling and protects the tooth or root against cold and heat. Dr. Schiffman's filling is a system so that a crown is made at one sitting, and no method consists of simply filling the tooth with a gold shell, as formerly by the old method.

It is with pleasure that I state that I have had several teeth filled by Dr. Schiffman, and that he removed the nerve and filled the root of one of my teeth and put on a porcelain crown which cannot be distinguished from a natural tooth, all of which was done without pain.

Some of the Smart Toilettes to be Seen in the Bois de Boulogne, in Gay Paris

Walking or driving in the Bois de Boulogne is by no means the least appreciated of the many attractions that Paris offers. At certain hours of the day and at certain periods of the year it is a general resort of fashionable society. But of all these hours and periods the most delightful are assuredly the warm mornings that precede the Grand Prix, which are the most select of all.

In the splendid scenery of the Bois, at the height of its beauty, "Tout Paris" wealthy, titled, artistic and cosmopolitan, may be seen on horseback, on automobiles, in carriages of every kind and on foot.

Moreover, it is not the slow, solemn procession of the afternoon along the Allee des Acacias; every one is inspired with fresh ardor, and all are eager in pursuit of their favorite sport. Between 11 o'clock and a quarter past 12 the marvelously beautiful alley is like a vast open-air saloon. People come and go, stop and talk; "bubbling" machines and impatient homes are kept standing, while cavaliers, amazons and chauffeurs exchange ideas.

The women get down from their carriages and form in little groups, making arrangements for the day and chatting over the soiree of the previous evening. It is an exquisite social hour in the fresh morning air, perfumed with the intoxicating odor of the acacias in flower, which fall like scented snow over the privileged classes of this world.

Let me give a few impressions from memory on some of the most recent of these "matinees," and in order to give more clearness to my criticisms and praises, let me separate the gathering into various categories.

In the first place, I noticed some intrepid amazons, and all of them wore sailor hats and coarse plait English straw, or else small round felt hats. The basques of habits are becoming large and more like the tails of a man's riding jacket. Some of the habits are even snuff colored, which completes the confusion of the sexes. For my part, I deplore these innovations, and look back with regret to the days of in the Macfarlane style, either of fine white cloth, but brown or red cloth which are very effective. The pure tailor-made style is also worn, and for a variation let me describe a lovely small pailot, half Jockey, half caquin, most original in aspect. It is made of fine white cloth, half length and straight cut. Ten rows of narrow gold piping, alternating with the same number of rows of black piping, encircle the small cape of crimson velvet which serves as a yoke. The sleeves, which are of the pagoda shape, are braided with gold only. The garment is fastened with groups of small tassels. A white skirt and a fluffy three-cornered hat complete this very swaggar costume.

Cyclists also have attained great perfection in regard to costumes, and have revived a sport which was at one time so discredited by the negligent costumes of some of its votaries. I now come to the beautiful "promenades," leaning back languorously in their victorias. Here is the triumph of the novelties in transparencies this summer. Lawns and muslins, incrustated and embroidered, large lingerie collars, flowered hats and dazzling self-colored sunshades, red, pink and white, especially form an aspect of studied simplicity suited to morning dress. I notice that all the feet extended on a bright silk cushion, matching the color of the dress, are shod in white ante-lope or doe leather. Large white tulle ruches over black tulle are very much in favor. They are light and airy and protect from the draught, and are also a very pretty ornament round the brim of a hat. There remain the pedestrians, gentle-ness lovers, of fresh air and bright sunshine. Numbers of girls get down from carriages and with quick, light steps traverse the bypaths. They all keep their skirts clear of the ground. I noticed two sisters, dressed alike, with cloth skirts in long down pleats, open at the bottom. A yellow cambric blouse made in flat pleats over a pink ground formed an admirable accompaniment to these plain dresses.

Another wore a bolero in the shape of a quarter mantle, with a large collar and waistband of white flowered pique. Sailor hats, with an embroidered karter, are all the rage. I have seen another pretty nicker-gray tailor-made costume, worn with a hat composed of red poppies, and a sunshade to match; waistband and boots of red morocco. This costume was very recherche and very stylish.

In the same style I notice a tailor-made costume of black satin, worn with a large toque of white hydrangeas; the waistband and boots were of white deerskin, and the gloves and sunshade were white. On this page is represented a young woman amid the fair-like surroundings of the battle of flowers. She is shown in a charming dress of black muslin, painted with small pink flowers, and made up over a ground of pink muslin. The skirt and corsage are trimmed with bands of ecru guilouche insertion, forming two stars over the skirt, in which are trellis patterns in narrow black velvet. Rosettes of wider velvet and ribbon are run down the side of the corsage, and the waistband is of the same material, tied behind with hanging ends. The lower part of the skirt is a shaped flounce of black chantilly lace, trimmed with black velvet. This model is by Ernest Raudnitz.

FROM "LA MODE FRANCAISE." To lighten the hair without affecting its quality.—Soak it in a mixture obtained by boiling 150 grammes of rhubarb in half a litre of white wine. Then let it dry. This formula, which is completely safe, has the defect of not being very tenacious. It must be renewed frequently.

Chestnut Hair.—Chestnut hair, which is beginning to turn white may be restored to its primitive color by moistening morning and evening with an infusion of green walnut husks or a strong decoction of tea. The Eyebrows and Eyelashes.—Be careful to brush the eyebrows every morning with a small brush dipped in water and glycerine. The eyelashes should be washed with an infusion of ceruleum or of cornflowers. The infusion, of course, must be cold. Mosquito Bites.—Some persons suffer very much, especially in summer, from the bites of mosquitoes on the hands, face, neck or arms. To preserve from the bites, the parts exposed should be washed with an infusion of quassia amara.

ALLEGED WIFE-BEATER.

Police Called Several Times to Prevent What Neighbors Thought Would Be a Murder.

Benjamin Wise, who lives on Grand avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, was arrested last yesterday afternoon on a charge of disturbing the peace. It is alleged that he has been making life a burden for his wife. The police have been summoned to his residence several times by the neighbors, who said they feared that murder was about to be committed. When the police were sent by the officers she was seen by the police, not protesting, although she was tired yesterday afternoon. There was an argument at the place and a policeman was sent there. He arrested the man and at the Police Station the woman became abusive and refused to be searched. He tried to conceal the little money he had, but it was found and he was locked up. If the police will swear to a complaint and tell of the numerous trips to the station on account of his alleged brutality to his wife.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

W.C.T.U. Services.

Ladies of the W.C.T.U. will conduct services tonight at the Volunteer Hall, No. 128 East First street. Rev. R. W. Cleland will deliver an address.

Mashed Hand.

Henry C. Lockwood of No. 1441 Temple street, a teamster, was treated at the Receiving Hospital yesterday for a painful injury to his left hand. A heavy iron wheel mangled his hand.

Split His Scalp.

Michael Kelly was treated at the Receiving Hospital yesterday morning for a long gash on the head, received by falling to the sidewalk while trying to cross an alley. So severe was his fall that the shock almost sobered him.

Snak at Work.

A. J. Millross reported to the police yesterday that a thief entered his shop at No. 481 San Fernando street at noon and stole carpenter's and tinners' tools and lead pipe. Mrs. D. R. W. Robinson reported the theft of a section of garden hose.

What Ailed Arthur?

The British Foreign Office is making inquiries here concerning the alleged mistreatment of one Arthur Weeks. It must have happened to him in some other country, for the local peace officers know nothing of such a man ever having been here.

Handsome Design.

The testimonial presented to the Chinese residents of Los Angeles by the President's Reception Committee was designed and drawn by John Rockwood, No. 1015 South Broadway, and is an elegant piece of artistic work. It reflects credit on the ability of its designer.

Bused Arm.

Robert Rogers, who lives at No. 710 Stephenson avenue, had seven stitches taken in a wound in his arm at the Receiving Hospital yesterday. He is employed at the Santa Fe Planing Mills, and while at work there thrust his arm against a rapidly-moving buzz-saw.

Death of Ed Sutter.

Edward Sutter died last night of inflammatory rheumatism at the home of his parents, No. 1915 Warner street, after an illness of about ten days' duration. The deceased was until recently employed at the Hoffman cigar store. He was one of the best-known young men in the city, and was popular. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

Violent Drop.

Mrs. P. H. McMahon, living at Vignes and Banning streets, stepped off a car on the Boyle Heights-Westlake Park line at Second and Broadway last night before the car had stopped. She was thrown violently to the street and struck on her head. She was carried into a drug store and later taken to the Receiving Hospital.

State Governor's Property.

The police were notified last night that a man apparently about 40 years of age had untied a bay broom mare attached to a Concord buggy in front of the California Hospital and had driven off with the rig. The horse and buggy is the property of Gov. Gage, and was taken to the hospital by a member of his family, who went there to call on a patient.

Too Much Wheel.

Willie Brown, a twelve-year-old colored boy, was arrested yesterday afternoon by the detectives on a charge of grand larceny. He is alleged to have stolen a bicycle from a son of Hank House, a Santa Fe conductor. He was seen with the wheel, and when an effort was made to capture him he crawled under the stairway of a vacant house, where he was arrested.

Union of Unions.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Unions will be held in the First Methodist Church, Sixth and Hill streets, next Thursday. It will be an all-day session, beginning with devotion at 10:30 o'clock a. m. Miss L. Rhodes will read a paper on city missionary work, and others will give "echoes" from the "Temperance Day" at the Chautauque at Long Beach, jumped and rolled.

A well-dressed woman who refused to give her name was painfully injured on Spring street, between Seventh and Eighth, last night. She was a passenger on University car No. 153, and signaled the conductor to stop in the middle of the block. She jumped out while the car was moving almost at full speed, rolled almost to the gutter, and got up before aid could reach her. Her body and arms were bruised.

Second-hand Smoke.

A full-grown man was passing the corner of First street and Broadway yesterday with a cigar in his mouth. Two small boys, perhaps nine years old, ran up to him, acting in a familiar manner. He deliberately removed the cigar from his mouth and handed it to one of the urchins, who put it in his own mouth, took a few puffs, and handed it back to the more aged nancy, who continued the smoke as he walked away.

Bible Conference.

The opening sessions of the Bible conference held in the First Baptist Church yesterday were full of interest. Rev. D. M. Starnish of Philadelphia gave two stirring addresses, and will speak every day during the conference, which will continue until Sunday night. Tonight at 7:45 he will give an exposition of the Sunday-school lesson. The conference is under the auspices of the Los Angeles Bible Institute, Rev. A. H. Pritchard, president.

Row in Tough Joint.

John Meyers was arrested Wednesday night on a charge of disturbing the peace at the Vienna Buffet. It was a difficult feat for him to perform considering the character of the place. He had a row with Special Policemen Methwin, who acts as a "bouncer" there, and the latter sent him to the Police Station. Yesterday the charge was amended to that of simple drunkenness, and although Meyers was not intoxicated when taken to the Police Station, he was fined $4 on that charge. Shot in the Face.

James McGahy, a bright little cash boy at the Broadway Department store, whose home is at No. 1708 Beale street, was taken to the Police Station last night suffering from a severe power burn on the right cheek. He said he was going home when he met a party of boys, one of whom had a blank cartridge pistol. This boy ordered him to stop, and when he refused, the pistol was placed close to his head and discharged, inflicting a painful wound. The police will arrest the boy who shot him.

Not This Dr. Huff.

In justice to Dr. William Huff, who lives at No. 215 North Hope street, it is stated that he is not the man who had an altercation with and caused the arrest of two street sweepers last Sunday afternoon. The party who had the trouble gave the name of Dr. William Huff at the Receiving Hospital, however, and in some manner his address was also given out by a clerk there, which accounts for the publication in Monday's Times. Dr. William Huff, whose name was evidently wrongfully used by another, was out of the city at the time, and had nothing whatever to do with the row. The man who did talk to appear for the prosecution of the alleged offenders.

Bell Rung Out.

C. R. Bell, who was arrested at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning on a charge of petty larceny, was not prosecuted for his offense yesterday. He was caught going through Central Park with money and carrying a check, which he had taken from in front of the Van Nuys Annex. He was not so drunk that the arresting officer, Patrolman Armstrong, could swear to it, at least the officer so stated last night. Yesterday the father of the prisoner, Maj. Horace Bell, secured the services of attorneys and they prevailed upon Deputy District Attorney Chambers to advise Armstrong against swearing to a complaint. Bell was therefore discharged from custody, although others, arrested about the same time, were punished for less serious offenses.

RUSSIAN THISTLES.

The Salt Lake Railroad Company promptly takes measures to destroy the dreaded pest along its line.

The Salt Lake Railroad Company has acted promptly on the information that there was a crop of Russian thistles maturing on the company's right of way.

A few days ago Horticultural Commissioner Strong called the attention of the company's roadmaster to the presence of that dreaded weed on the company's right of way. The thistles are a pest, and it was promised that the nuisance should be abated.

A gang of men is at work pulling up the thistles about ten miles in a condition so as to avoid the possibility of any seed from them being scattered about the community in a way to spread the pest.

Supervisor Wilson, in whose district there are a number of places where the thistles have made its appearance, has directed the several road foremen within his territory to remove and destroy all Russian thistles found along the highways within their several road districts.

Corner-stone of Sherman Institute Laid Yesterday With Appropriate Ceremony.

FORMAL BEGINNING.
THE corner-stone of the Indian school, which the United States government proposes to build at Riverside, was laid yesterday afternoon with appropriate ceremonies on the site purchased for the school, on Magnolia avenue, one of the famous driveways of the country.

The school will be known as Sherman Institute, in honor of Hon. J. S. Sherman of New York, chairman of the Congressional Committee on Indian Affairs. The appropriation so far amounts to $27,000, and the first contract calls for twelve brick fire-proof buildings in the mission style of architecture which are to be completed in March, 1902.

It was expected that Congressman Sherman would be present at the corner-stone laying, and his failure to be there was a distinct disappointment to the people of Riverside.

CROWDS OF VISITORS.
The number of outside visitors was not as large as had been anticipated, but they arrived on every train, while hundreds drove to town from all sections of the country. The Ferris Indian School Band was early in evidence when the morning trains rolled in, and hit up an occasional lively air on the streets, to the delight of all within hearing distance.

Although the formal exercises were not scheduled to begin until 8 o'clock, from noon on every car down the valley was crowded. Soon several thousand people had congregated on the site of the new school, and when the programme opened, the scene was altogether inspiring.

SCENE OF EXERCISES.
Well back from beautiful Magnolia avenue, in the shade of big pepper-trees was erected the main stand for the speakers and distinguished guests, a canopy being spread over one end.

There were seated the members of the Indian Mandolin, Guitars and Glee Clubs, The Stars and Stripes and the institute colors, purple and gold, much in evidence, and a large picture of the President had a prominent place.

The band stand was located back of the platform. The Decoration Committee consisted of Mrs. Simms, Miller and Stubbins, Mr. Simms and Mr. Long.

Back of the seats for the audience were displayed a large drawing of the institute and numerous plans in detail. The first part of the programme consisted largely of excellently rendered songs by the Ferris Indian School Mandolin and Guitar Club and the Indian School Band, which proved a revelation to many of the visitors, who had no idea of the proficiency attained by the young musicians.

SENATOR PERKINS SPEAKS.
Senator Perkins, presiding officer of the day, opened the more formal exercises. He said:

"We are met today with appropriate exercises to lay the corner-stone of the Sherman Institute, a school which the government of the United States is about to erect for the higher education of the Indian. This institute is named in honor of Congressman Sherman of New York, Congressman McLaughlin, an old schoolmate of Mr. Sherman, is present, and will lay the stone. He will be assisted in the ceremony by Capt. A. C. Tonner, Assistant Commissioner of Indian Affairs at Washington."

After a song by the school children, Rev. E. F. Goff read a passage from the scriptures and offered prayer.

RELICS DEPOSITED.
Capt. Tonner deposited the box in the stone. He said:

"This box contains the Bible, the flag of our country, the Constitution of the United States and of this State, a historical sketch of Riverside, the daily papers, and various documents of our interest. The most important earthly structures will at some time or other crumble in the dust. Man, with all his skill and ambition, has never been able to raise an enduring monument. When the building to be erected on this site shall be demolished, those who then live will find in this stone a record of our civilization. From its contents they will be able to tell not only the local history of this city, but also what is now transpiring in the nation and in the world. They will find here the symbol of the faith that dominates the most progressive nations, and is shaping the destiny of mankind. It gives me great pleasure to deposit in this stone this box, with its significant contents."

SHERMAN'S SUBSTITUTE.
In the absence of Congressman Sherman, Mr. McLaughlin took the part assigned to him, that of laying the corner-stone. At the conclusion of this exercise, which was brief, Mr. McLaughlin returned to the platform and made an address.

The orator of the day, Will A. Harris, Esq., of Los Angeles, followed with an eloquent and stirring address. Mrs. Priestly Hall sang "My Native Land." All joined in singing "America," and the band played "The Star Spangled Banner," and the exercises were over.

PRESIDENT'S GREETINGS.
Among the letters read was one from the president of the United States, as follows:

"I have your letter of the 23d inst., and thank you for bringing its subject-matter to my attention. Please convey to the people of Riverside my cordial greetings, and congratulations upon the occasion of the laying of the corner-stone of the new Indian School."

MODERATOR AFTER CARLSBERG.
The Riverside school will be for the West what the Carlsberg school is in the East. The land offered, of which part is purchased and the rest secured by option, consists of a forty-acre tract on which the twelve buildings are to stand, on the south side of Magnolia avenue, adjoining the new park and polo grounds on the west. With this is a ten-acre lot for a vegetable garden, and about a mile further down the valley is a 100-acre tract, which will be devoted to farming and fruit purposes. All of the land is well watered.

PALM TREES PLANTED.
An interesting ceremony, preliminary to the main event, was held Wednesday evening, when two fine palm trees were planted on the new institute grounds by Commissioner Tonner and George Frost. Postmaster Streeter acted as master of ceremonies.

of the college buildings, and then got out. If he is the man as shown in the photograph sent herewith, he is a good man to look up. He is not a Harvard man, and never was.

"He had a chum while at work here, and arrested at the same time by me, a fellow giving the name of William Wynter, alias Higgins, who looks enough like Lowrie to be his brother."

Both of these men worked together, and in selling the goods stolen, one would sell one day and the other the next, causing trouble to identify them, as the receiver could not tell which sold, and gave us descriptions of both men. I think the second man you want is Wynter, alias Higgins. Please send me your photo of Lowrie."

Lowrie is still in the County Jail, but will probably be taken North within a week.

RUSSELL GOES TO JAIL FOR THREE MONTHS.
NORLEMAN PLEAD GUILTY TO CHARGE OF BIGAMY.

Both the Earl and Countess Contended That They Did Not Know It Was Wrong—Prison is in Excellent Shape for the Lordly Occupant.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
LONDON, July 18.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Earl Russell, arraigned at the bar of the House of Lords today on the charge of bigamy, pleaded guilty after lengthy arguments against the jurisdiction of the court.

The trial was carried on with all the quaint middle-age ceremonies. The arguments lasted one hour. Both the Earl and Countess (Mrs. Somerville) through their counsel, pleaded that they did not know they were doing wrong but acted on the best legal advice obtainable in Nevada.

The peers reached their decision after consideration of the case lasting twenty minutes. Earl Russell was sentenced to three months' imprisonment as a first-class misdemeanant.

NOT A BAD PLACE.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
LONDON, July 18.—In anticipation of the arrival of Lord Russell the officials of Holloway Prison have prepared for his reception one of the rooms formerly occupied by William T. Stead, the editor, and members of the Jameson raiders. It is a commodious apartment in which his lordship can be supplied with his own food and wines.

UNION SHOP
NO PARADISE.

American Laundry Has Its Troubles.

Agitators' Stronghold is Not a Mint.

Still Some Employees Say They Made Better Wages
Before Strike.

"You can't fool all of the people all of the time." Never has the wisdom of that saying of the immortal Lincoln been more amply proved than in the aftermath of the laundry strike in Los Angeles.

Unionism and its bossism have proved unsatisfactory to employers and employees, and the American, the lone union laundry, furnishes striking proof.

Over three hundred contented girls were seduced from their positions by the false statements of the agitators; now, of them, now, come their error, when they know they can speak their minds without falling beneath the union lash.

The proprietors of every laundry in the city save one fought union dictation and won. The organ of the agitators has untruthfully held them up as oppressors, and otherwise vainly striven to get them to recognize the union.

But the point harped on most persistently was the perfectly lovely state of affairs at the one union laundry. The American was painted as the earthly paradise of employer and employee. Under union dictation it was stated that every one was enjoying peace and prosperity. These statements are false.

UNIONISM A FAILURE.
According to assertions of both employers and employees neither are entirely satisfied. The establishment has been conducted strictly under union rules, and while it has had more work than it could well handle, the wonderful results promised by the union leaders have not materialized.

ever, has not to this day been signed by the directors, at least not to the knowledge of the manager or foreman. The prospect is that it never will be signed. The union leaders have been chary about forcing matters, for fear of losing what they already have, and the stockholders already perceive that the defeat of the strikers will kill the union.

With the diminution of trade bound to come, now that the other laundries are about able to run at their full capacity, the wise ones at the American see it will not longer pay them to put up with union dictation.

At the present time the margin of profit on the immense output is exceedingly small. The laundry is running night and day, with large crews, but the cost of doing the work is too great to allow even a fair profit.

OUTLOOK NOT ROSY.
Any good business man would say that present results are anything but promising for future prosperity and stability of the concern. The wear and tear on machinery run continuously must be reckoned a large item in considering returns from capital invested. Then come the large commissions offered to secure drivers to handle the large output.

The officials say the principal leak is in the night work. It is impossible to do as much work as in the day time, and the cost of labor is the same. Then, again, the union hands feel so sure of their places that they work along at an odd speed, and although the laundry is jammed with workers, they do not get out as much work as a smaller, but more active force.

WORKERS GRUMBLE.
Still, even among the union hands, there has been some grumbling. No trouble was considered possible when there was so much at stake for the union, and there will probably be none. But some of the comparatively few of the strikers favored with jobs are finding the unionism, even while working, a delusion.

The eyes of Los Angeles are on this object lesson. The stockholders are finding that even fair dividends are impossible under union rule, and they will doubtless rebel when interfering walking delegates assert the power entrusted to them. This cannot be expected until the public gaze is turned away from the one example of a union laundry.

BENEFIT ENTERTAINMENT.
BIG CROWD AT THEATRE.
Every seat at the Los Angeles Theatre, except those in the gallery, was occupied last night to witness the performance for the benefit of the striking laundry workers.

The audience was made up almost entirely of working people, members of unions or sympathizers. The programme was largely made up of performances by juveniles and amateur sinners and dancers, but was entertaining from start to finish. The audience was not at all critical and gave every performer applause in plenty.

Conspicuous in the programme was the singing of Edwin M. Clinton. This young man disclosed a fine baritone in his rendition of the staid "Dolly Gray," and with a little more confidence would "make good" in almost any company. The other numbers were: "The Star Spangled Banner," sung in costume, Miss Lottie Buisseret; comic musician, W. Howard Miller; dancing, Carlsson sisters; recitation, Miss Blanche Loraine; clog dancing, Raiford and Fischer; cake walk, Hazel Simon and Nellie Nelson; contralto solo, Miss Sarah Friesenberger; dancing, Master Francis and Little Hope Woods; soprano solo, Miss Susie Ritter; selections, Cliftonian quartette; recitation, Miss Leona Rieder.

where there are so many persons employed.

"Well, are you making lots of money?" was asked of Manager William H. Rorick.

"Oh, not so much," he replied. "You see, it costs so much to get the work out. We can't do so much nights, and expenses are just the same."

"Then, running a union laundry is not what it's cracked up to be," was ventured.

"No," he replied, decisively. "Are you making more money than before the strike?"

"Well, perhaps more in proportion." Rorick said the directors of the company had not signed the union agreement, to his knowledge. He said none had been presented, but could give no reason why.

REPUTATION POSSIBLE.
It was suggested that perhaps the company contemplates repudiating the union after the other laundries have shown their ability to run independently, but he would not say such a thing was planned, nor make a positive denial.

It is a safe prediction, however, that the American will profit by the victory of the other laundries and come out as a non-union shop after the smoke has cleared away. The stockholders are finding that even fair dividends are impossible under union rule, and they will doubtless rebel when interfering walking delegates assert the power entrusted to them. This cannot be expected until the public gaze is turned away from the one example of a union laundry.

OFFICIALS TALK.
"The union scale is all right for the employers," said Foreman Miller of the American Laundry, "but you know the complaint never was based on the wages paid. The scale averages just about the same as all the laundries paid. No complaints have come to us, but you know there are always kickers

DUDE LOWRIE A LIAR
AS WELL AS BURGLAR.

YOUNG CROOK NOT A HARVARD UNIVERSITY GRADUATE.

Sentence of Five Years Well Deserved by the House-breaker, Who Posed as an Erring Christian—His Crimes in Eastern Cities.

Far from being the good little Y.M.C.A. boy and Harvard graduate which he represented himself to be, C. Donald Lowrie, who was convicted of burglary last week and sentenced to five years in San Quentin, is an ex-convict, a known crook, and is supposed to be wanted in other cities. Ever since his arrest here, early this year, and especially after the detectives found that he had been implicated in a number of burglary jobs here and elsewhere in this section of the State, they did not hesitate to express the opinion that Lowrie was only posing as a Christian young man in order that his crimes might be the more easily covered up.

From time to time he would admit that he had been at this place or that, and to each of these places of detectives wrote requesting information concerning the past record of the prisoner. The first thing they discovered was that the man is an artful liar, for letter after letter came back with the information that he had not been at places mentioned by him, and that he was well known to people he declared were his warm personal friends.

Yesterday the Chief of Detectives received a letter from Capt. James E. Murray, Inspector of Police at Cambridge, Mass., which throws more light upon the past record of the convicted felon than any other information received by the more easily covered up.

BETTER HURRY THOSE CROSSING GATES. NARROW ESCAPE OF PROMINENT REDLANDS CITIZENS.

Trustee Brock and Benjamin Pierson Almost Run Over by a Freight Car—Mexicans Trying to Make Business for the Coroner.

REDLANDS, July 18.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] City Trustee A. E. Brock and Benjamin Pierson, who were crossing the tracks last evening in front of three hundred Redlands people who were looking on at the time.

The Southern Pacific way freight usually reaches Redlands at 7 o'clock, and as there is but one track across Orange street, the switches for the packing-house below the street are made in "drops," that is, the cars are given a start by the engine, and are then allowed to go down to the siding in charge of a brakeman, who has only the hand brakes to stop cars on the most important crossing in the city.

Mr. Brock, who admits carelessness, was driving a somewhat heavy cot up Orange street, and was busily engaged talking with Mrs. Pierson. His first intimation of danger was a horrified exclamation from his companion as she went out of the buggy over the wheel. Mr. Brock's animal stopped, and Mr. Brock looked over his right shoulder to see a freight car, surmounted by a shrieking brakeman, bearing down on him, and not three feet away. He struck the horse, and it gave a leap that just landed him clear. Mr. Pierson's escape was still closer. He fell on the track, and lost his hat. In attempting to recover it he nearly lost his life. When he got hold of the hat the brake-beam of the car was grasping his arm, and the multitude of people, just too far away to help, were getting ready to gather up the remains, when Mr. Pierson scrambled from under.

The crossing gates recently put in by the railroad are not yet in operation, owing to the non-arrival of a part of the apparatus. Had they been in, Mr. Brock's nerves would be in much steadier shape.

MEXICANS RUN AMUCK.

Early yesterday morning the Mexicans on the Hubbard place, just south of town, made an heroic effort to provide a job for the Coroner. Had it not been for the timely appearance of Mariana Mendoza, a Mexican woman, they would have succeeded. Mrs. Mendoza came to town with news of the outbreak, and these officers set out at once for the scene. Upon their arrival they found Bruno Perez in a dying condition, and Dolores Perez, a part of his left hand nearly severed. Several other Mexicans were hurt, but not so seriously.

By a tale told by the Mexicans, it seems Perez wanted some liquor in the possession of the other Mexicans.

SUGAR-BEET CROP IS A RECORD-BREAKER.

FORMER CROPS OUTDONE AS TO QUANTITY AND QUALITY.

China Factory Will Take Fifteen Thousand Tons from Santa Ana Valley—Alamitos Factory Will Have Heavy Run—Santa Ana Brevities.

SANTA ANA, July 18.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] The crop of sugar beets in this valley will be very much larger this year than it has been for the past several years, and the quality promises to be equal, if not superior, to any the valley has ever raised here before. The late rains had the effect of maturing many fields that otherwise would have produced nothing, and the ranchers will consequently experience a very good year with beets. It is conservatively estimated now that the China factory will take at least 15,000 tons of beets out of this valley, as against 1500 tons last year.

The Alamitos factory will have the heaviest run this year, with perhaps one exception, that it has had since the big sugar house was built. A great deal of water has been developed in the western portion of the valley during the past three years, and as a result the beet farmers have ascertained that they do not have to depend on the natural rainfall in order to mature a crop of beets. There seems to be plenty of water at no great depth in every portion of the beet country in the western part of the valley, and the ranchers are beginning to cease croaking to the westward. So far, there have been very few failures in this enterprising work, and as a result thousands of acres of land are being made to produce wonderfully under the new order of things.

SANTA ANA BREVITIES.

A large brown horse, attached to a top buggy, rose loose from a hitching post on North Main street this afternoon, and made a run of a dozen or more blocks, finally winding up at the corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets, where he fell on the artist-car track. The buggy was badly broken, and the horse cut and bruised by the fall. At a late hour this morning the owner of the rig had not shown up.

Word was received today that Miss Ada Galloway of this city had died in Los Angeles. The remains were brought here this evening, but arrangements have not yet been completed for the funeral.

ANAHEIM.

OLD ODD FELLOW HONORED.

ANAHEIM, July 18.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] The Odd Fellows installed officers Tuesday night, a number of visitors being present from Fullerton and Santa Ana. The ceremonies were followed by a big banquet here at the Hotel Placencia. The occasion was the twentieth anniversary of the initiation of E. W. Champlin as an Odd Fellow. Many years ago Mr. Champlin rode on a mule all the way from Tucson, Ariz., to Santa Ana, and he has been a resident of Anaheim since 1872. In honor of his long and useful career, the local lodge Tuesday night presented him an elegant easy chair, a receipt for five years' dues, and a purse of $50 in gold, and Sycamore lodge here appointed him a member of the local lodge.

The report in circulation that Mr. Ficus had died in Los Angeles as a result of injuries sustained by being kicked by a horse is erroneous. He is well on the way to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rust will return here tomorrow from the Pan-American Exposition.

FULLERTON.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

FULLERTON, July 18.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] On Wednesday evening the Fraternal Brotherhood installed the following officers, a number of visitors being present from Anaheim and Santa Ana: E. J. Denike, President; Miss Celeste Racy, Vice-President; H. E. Head, Secretary; Miss Rose Robinson, Treasurer; Dr. Rich, Physician; M. H. Tanner, Chaplain; Charles Knowlton, Sergeant.

been seen walking south on Broadway when the man suddenly made a motion as if to draw a weapon. Then the woman ran. A patrolman took her to the Police Station, and another officer was sent to Fifth and Olive streets, where he arrested the man.

When the arrest was taken to the Police Station the woman changed her tactics and became very reticent. She not only refused to swear to a complaint against her husband, but pleaded for his release. Neither woman made any statement or gave any information. The woman had told the officers that her husband is insanely jealous of her, and that he had threatened to kill her several days ago at Santa Monica. She said that she was afraid of him, and that she had been working for him for several days. After the alleged wife refused to swear to a complaint against the man there was nothing for the police to do but to release him.

WRECK ON SANTA FE.

Two Men Were Killed and Several Others Were Injured in a Work-train Accident.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) EMPORIA (Kan.), July 18.—A work-train wrecked on Santa Fe, Kan., and several men were killed and injured. The train was carrying a large number of men and material for the construction of a new bridge over the Santa Fe River. The train derailed at a curve, and the engine and several cars were overturned. Two men were killed and several others were injured. The cause of the wreck is being investigated.

water at thirty inches per head. The Ontario water system is pumping sixty-five inches of water, which is also supplying the growers on Ontario.

STILL HOOMING.

The building boom is still on. The foundation for a five-room cottage was put in this week for W. F. Hewitt, on the corner of E street and Euclid avenue, and work has been commenced on the foundation for the Episcopal parsonage, south of the church building. Euclid avenue. Several of the new buildings in progress are nearing completion and will soon be ready for occupancy.

ONTARIO BREVITIES.

The Malone Fruit Company has shipped three carloads of lemons this week.

On account of the large quantity of apricots handled at the California Fruit Company's cannery, the latter have been compelled to work both night and day. The apricot season is now drawing to a close, however, and further work in the fruit canning industry will cease this week until the peaches are in shape for canning.

RIVERSIDE KNOCKERS BARELY A-TAPPING.

Leaders Practically Decide not to Hold Meeting Saturday Night—How Some of Them Would Be Affected by Increased Taxation.

RIVERSIDE, July 18.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] The "disinterested" leaders in the anti-jail movement have practically decided not to hold an "indignation" meeting at the opera-house Saturday night. The call issued in the alleged interest of the downtrodden taxpayer has fallen flat. To illustrate what the hubbub is about, the following figures are quoted, showing how the pocket money of the several signers to the call would be put in circulation if a new jail were built: The Riverside county total assessment is $120,000,000. The surplus of the county is $100,000, which would be about 25,000. A raise of one-quarter of one per cent. on the tax rate would yield $30,000, which, with the surplus, would make $55,000. The stipulated cost of the proposed jail and Courthouse site is $1,000,000. This is how such a raise would affect the signers of the call: Bradford Morse, chairman, assessed at $125. His raise would be $31.25. E. W. Holmes, assessed at $425. He would be mulcted to the extent of $106.25. G. W. Garcelon is assessed at $3825. So that he would get a raise of $956.25. A grand total of $1,000,000 on the taxes levied on the leaders of the opposition. W. G. Fraser, manager of the big interests of the Riverside Trust Company, and whose name was signed to the call, has become wearied of the whole proposition, and will have nothing to do with it.
